Tour's Position Stated.

In conclusion Mr. Vest said: "if I had be power I would withdraw every index of United States authority from the linearing law in a property and are may be necessary to protect, under demandant law, the property and persons of American citizens inspitimately skiling there. I should leave the oposing factions to settle the question of weekignty for themselves. There can a no solution of this question so absorbe as that which would then be had streen the afherents of Queen Liliusiani and those of the provisional government. The doctrine of the United lates, through all our history, has been at the people should determine their we government—not the educated, not to titled people, not the opputent people, at under God the people high and low at I would leave the people of those lands of all clauses, who are legitimate widents there and citizens to determine this question themselves.

Would Be an Act of Wan. ald He an Act of War.

Would be an Act of Wax.

"For this government now to put back upon the throne this woman, if this provisional government be do facto, would be an act of war. And I will not believe that the president has contemplated it. For us to take part with this provisional government would be to give proof that the military authority of the government is to be used in a doubtful issue, by turning the scales against an overwhealing popular majority of the people. Hither horn of that dilsemme destroys our prestige as a great republic, and either course would strike down the doctrine of popular sovereignty upon which our government is established, and upon which it must stand. If the queen has behind her enough of her people to put her back upon the throne, then the government of the United States should recognize that as the government de facto and de jure of the liawaiian islands. If she has not the power, then let her go down before the decree of the great tribunal before which all true Americans bow in this land and for which they pray throughout the world."

Mr. Frye said that with the conclusion of Mr. Veet's speech he was in hearty accord and he believed that the people in the liawaitan islands were, too.

The resolution was then referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Mr. Marrill then addressed the senate on the tariff question.

State Grange Punctures Some of its Measures

Lassino, Mich., Dec. 13.—The report of the executive committee, written by Jusque Ramsdell of Traverse City, was the most interesting thing in connection with tearly's meeting of the state grange. The repeal of the Sherman law is demonned, and the order arrays itself against free silver. The grange favors a restriction of tenering by railroad and other corporations to the actual value of property, meaning there shall be no watered stock. As an example, it is shown that the estimated value of the railways of the country in $11,000,000,0000, while it is Lassino, Mich., Dec. 13.—The report estimated value of the railways of the country is $11,000,000,000, while it is claimed they can be rebuilt for $5,000,000,000. Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.
